Breed Preference Research

Understanding Breed Preference

Are you interested in adopting a specific breed of dog?

● Yes ● No ● Maybe

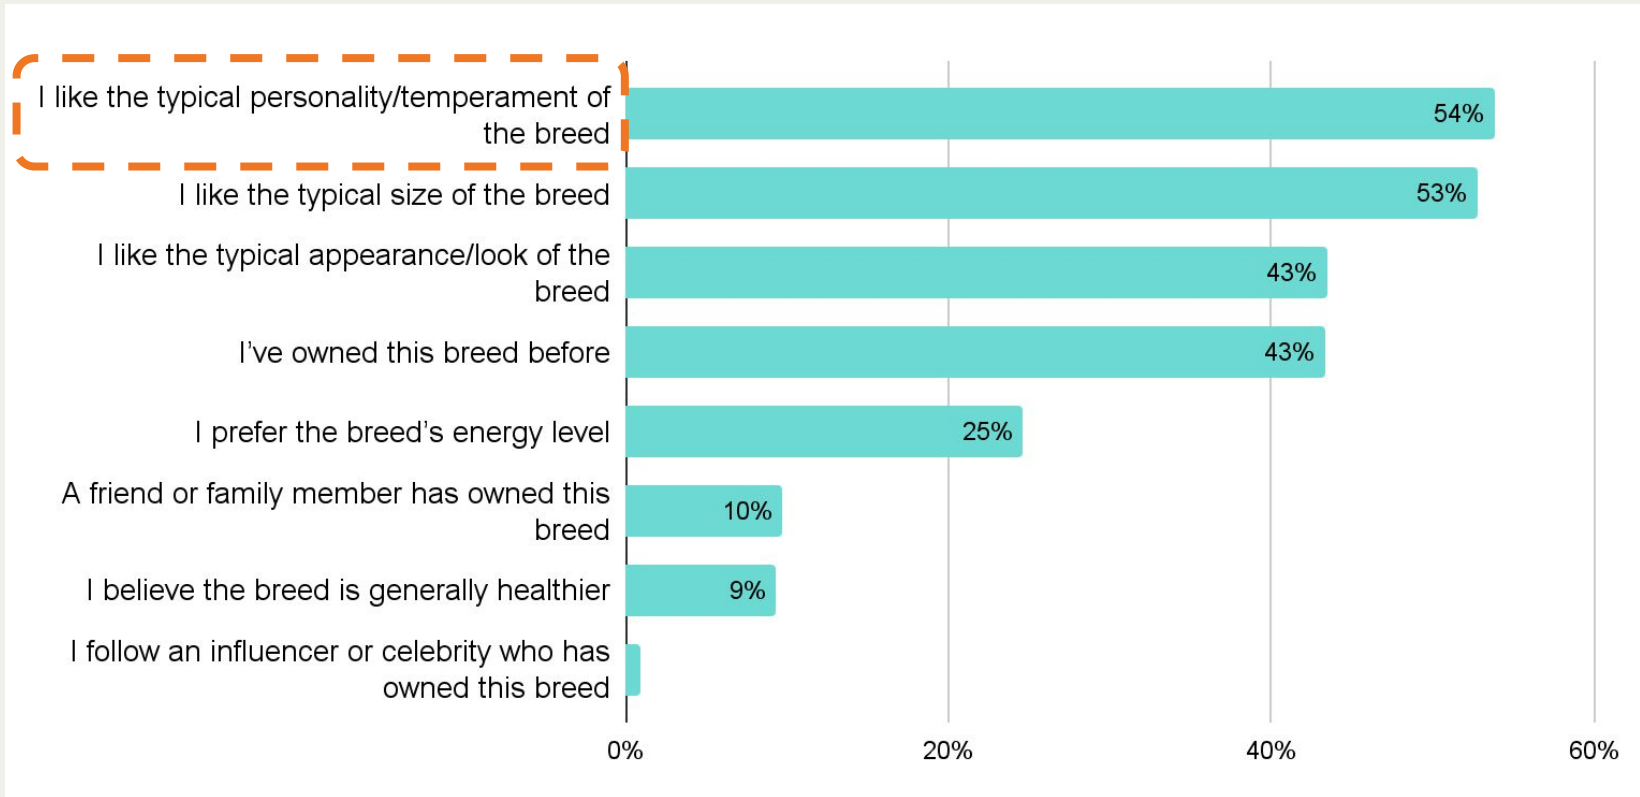

How important is it for you to adopt a specific breed?

● It must be a specific breed(s) - I won't consider others.
● I prefer a specific breed(s), but I'm open to others.
● Breed doesn't matter to me.

DNA testing program launches...

Adopt a Pet and Wisdom Panel have partnered to offer discounted Wisdom Panel tests for use by shelters and rescues.

AWOs can purchase Breed Discovery tests at a deep discount and in bulk.

DNA tests are perfect for testing long stay dogs, older dogs, and large dogs that need additional marketing.

AAP is conducting testing on driving interest through a badge, results in the pet story and promotion via social. Stay tuned for results!

The screenshot shows a pet listing for a dog named Skyler. At the top, there is a link to "Back to search results". The title "My name is Skyler!" is prominently displayed, followed by the text "Posted over 2 months ago | Updated 1 week ago". Below the title is a large photo of a black and tan dog lying on grass, with a "WISDOM PANEL DNA TESTED" badge in the bottom left corner. To the right of the photo is a teal sidebar with the text "Cared for by Private owner (Oakley, CA)", "listed through Rehome by Adopt a Pet", and an "Adoption process" section with steps: "1 Submit application", "2 Interview", and "3 Meet the pet". Below the main photo are three smaller thumbnail images of the dog. At the bottom of the listing, there is a "free visit" badge and a photo of a woman with a dog.

Driving Interest - Adopters

Research conducted to understand what profile attributes were most important to adopters.

Our perceptions of “rich profile” were challenged as adopters consider all of this information as the basic minimum information for a “complete” profile

Driving Interest - Photo Summary

1 If you can only get 1-2 photos, make sure it's zoomed in on the pet portrait-style – getting everything from a clear shot of their face and head, down to their shoulders and chest.

2 Ideally, take a range of 4-7 photos, including at least one full body frame and at least one photo showing a little “personality”.

3 Try to capture the pet with happy/relaxed/natural expressions and poses. Joy in the animals' faces and bodies translates to joy for potential adopters!

4 Props and staging aren't a hard no – but keep the visual noise to a minimum. And make sure any props used are ones that the pet feels comfortable with.

5 Avoid digitally or graphically altering the background. Natural backgrounds help potential adopters relate to and envision their pet better.

6 Similarly, use text on photos very sparingly – consider that words slows down a viewer's processing time, and most potential adopters consider them distracting.

Driving Interest - Personality Traits

Driving Interest - Health Status Indicators

Health Status Do's:

- Be specific
- Estimate monthly cost of care
- Details if your org is covering any $ or providing any post-adoption care
- Information related to dental including last dental date or future dental needed by
- Heartworm test and preventative details
- Next vaccines due date

Health Status Don'ts:

- Be vague
- Omit
- Consider need to require experienced adopter

Basic health status indicators on the pet profile coming soon!

Driving Interest - Adoption Cost

1

Be transparent about what adoption fees cover at your organization.

In your “About Us” section in your Adopt a Pet profile, list out all of the services your adoptable pets receive that factor into the adoption fee.

2

Clearly list the adoption fee associated with each pet or species.

Fill out the adoption fee field for each pet, or – if you have blanket fees for species or age – we now have a new field for that!

3

Explain any fee anomalies, like $0 on individual pets.

If it's not a shelter-wide fee-waived event, state in the pet's story (or kennel card) why this particular pet's fees are waived.

Long Prose

My story

Here's what the humans have to say about me:

Meet Lucky, affectionately known as Lucky — a loving and intelligent 12-month-old Samoyed-Husky mix with a sweet temperament and striking good looks. We adopted him as a young puppy from a rescue agency, and since then, he's been raised in a warm and structured home environment with plenty of care, training, and affection.

Lucky is fully house trained and knows a range of basic commands including "sit," "down," and "wait." He's also neutered, fully vaccinated, and microchipped. Friendly with people and playful around other dogs, Lucky brings a joyful energy to social settings while remaining calm and well-mannered at home. After his walks, he's quick to settle and enjoys lounging or quietly entertaining himself indoors.

His personality is a charming mix of affectionate and independent. He's playful, smart, and alert, and he responds well to consistency and gentle guidance. Lucky thrives with daily exercise and positive interaction, making him a great match for someone who enjoys spending time outdoors and can provide him with continued structure and companionship.

We're seeking a new home that will offer Lucky the same love and attention he's known since puppyhood. The rehoming fee is $400, which includes his vet records, crate, leash, grooming supplies, and a training collar. We know he'll make a wonderful companion for the right person or family.

My story

Here's what the humans have to say about me:

- Loving, Calm-at-Home Samoyed-Husky Mix (12 Months Old)
- House trained
- Knows basic commands (sit, down, wait, etc.)
- Neutered, fully vaccinated, and microchipped
- Friendly with people and playful around other dogs
- Calm and well-behaved indoors — he settles easily and enjoys relaxing after his walks
- Would do great with someone who enjoys outdoor time and can continue providing routine and positive interaction.
- Rehoming fee includes: vet records, crate, leash, grooming supplies, and training collar.

My story

Here's what the humans have to say about me:

Meet Lucky — Our Loving, Calm-at-Home Samoyed-Husky Mix (12 Months Old)

We're looking for a new home for our beautiful pup, Lucky, an 12-month-old Samoyed-Husky mix. We adopted him as a puppy from a rescue agency, and he's been raised in a loving home with consistent training, structure, and care.

Lucky is:

- 🏠 House trained
- 🐾 Knows basic commands (sit, down, wait, etc.)
- ✂️ Neutered, fully vaccinated, and microchipped
- 🐾 Friendly with people and playful around other dogs
- 🏠 Calm and well-behaved indoors — he settles easily and enjoys relaxing after his walks

We'd describe Lucky as playful, alert, affectionate, independent, and smart. He does well with structure and thrives with regular activity, gentle guidance, and consistent attention. He would do great with someone who enjoys outdoor time and can continue providing routine and positive interaction.

👛 Rehoming fee: $400
Includes: vet records, crate, leash, grooming supplies, and training collar.

First Person

My story

Here's what the humans have to say about me:

Hi, I'm Lucky! I'm a 12-month-old Samoyed-Husky mix with a big heart and a fluffy coat to match. I've grown up in a loving home where I've learned all the good stuff—like how to sit, wait, and do my business outside. I'm neutered, fully vaccinated, and microchipped, so I'm all set health-wise. I'm friendly with people, love to play with other dogs, and I'm super chill inside the house. After a nice walk or some outdoor fun, I'm happy to curl up and relax near you.

I'm playful, smart, and a little independent too—I like having my own space but also enjoy affection and gentle guidance. I do best with structure and someone who likes to get outside with me. If you're the kind of human who enjoys a good walk and can give me consistent love and attention, we might be the perfect match. There's a $400 rehoming fee, but it includes my crate, leash, grooming supplies, training collar, and all my vet records. I can't wait to meet my new forever person!

Sad Backstory

My story

Here's what the humans have to say about me:

Lucky is a 12-month-old Samoyed-Husky mix with a calm temperament and playful energy. He has been raised in a structured, loving environment and is house trained, knows basic commands, and is neutered, vaccinated, and microchipped.

Tragically, a sudden and serious medical emergency has turned his caregivers' lives upside down, leaving them no choice but to make the heartbreaking decision to let him go. This is not a matter of preference—it is a matter of painful necessity. Lucky is not just a pet, but a deeply loved member of the family, and rehoming him has brought tears and grief to everyone involved. They are holding onto the hope that someone with a kind heart and steady hands will give him the life they no longer can.

The rehoming fee is $400 and includes his vet records, crate, leash, grooming supplies, and training collar. Lucky is ready to bring his warmth and loyalty to a new home that can carry forward the love he's known.

👍 Highlights:

- Perceived to be a typical, default format

⚠️ Drawbacks:

- “Too much to scroll through”
- Story lacked emotional depth and felt “transactional”

Bullets

4.0 | 5.0 | 3.3

👍 Highlights:

- Clear and easy to skim for essential information.
- Trusted by users; felt “honest” and “practical.”

⚠️ Drawbacks:

- Lacked emotional impact or storytelling.
- Lowest perception of completeness

First Person

4.7 | 4.0 | 4.0

❤️ Highlights:

- Emotional engagement was high.
- Users reported feeling more “spoken to” and “warmed” by the story.

⚠️ Drawbacks:

- “Too good to be true?”
- Needed context (e.g. backstory).

Sad Backstory

4.7 | 4.6 | 5.0

❤️ Highlights:

- Created empathy and appreciation for transparency.
- Got the highest “completeness” rating

⚠️ Drawbacks:

- Tone must be carefully balanced to avoid being manipulative.

Driving Interest - Pet Name

“What about pet names??”

1.3

Average importance of pet name
(across all tested formats)

- Overall, the pet name has very low influence on adoption decisions
- Fun or clever names can be eye-catching during browsing (e.g. human names like “Greg” or playful names like “Zorbax”), but most said they’d rename the pet anyway
- Long names or “unserious” names were polarizing, e.g. “Sir Fluffington”

My story

Lucky, the striking black German Shepherd, is looking for his forever home. He found his way to our rescue organization as a stray but quickly won our staff's hearts with his affectionate nature and unwavering loyalty. Lucky is about 2 years old and is the perfect blend of intelligence and playfulness. Whether it's a game of fetch in the park or a quiet evening by the fireplace, Lucky is up for any adventure as long as he's by your side. This incredibly intelligent and eager to please, making him a quick learner for anyone willing to invest time and love into him. Lucky is longing for a family that will cherish him and promises a lifetime of companionship, love, and unwavering loyalty.

Lucky is in search of a loving and committed family who understands the needs of a German Shepherd. A secure yard where he can play happily is a plus. Lucky gets along well with other dogs and would enjoy the company of a canine sibling, but he's just as content being the center of attention. He is up to date on vaccinations, neutered, and has received a clean bill of health from our veterinarian. Lucky's heart is ready to be devoted to the right family, and if you're ready to open your heart and home to this
